Crime Doesn't Pay

First of two raccoons shot in Sidney last week is displayed by Hugh Godwin. Mr. Godwin, visiting from Saskatchewan, shot this 11-pound marauder on June 1. The following day a 15-pound raccoon was shot in the same place.

The two raccoons are believed to have been responsible for widespread damage in the Roberts Bay area over the past few weeks, including the killing of some 70 rare canaries at the home of Mr. Godwin's grandmother, Mrs. Luella Goddard, 2495 Beaufort Road.

NO STRANGER HERE

Neptunes are no strangers, however, to local residents. These heavy patrol planes have been regular visitors here. They have called here on trips to the naval squadron, VU 33, which is to be their host and Neptunes have undergone various modifications and repairs at the local plant of Fairway of Canada Ltd.

The Neptune, which has a range of 3,400 miles, will present an increasingly familiar silhouette to residents of the Patricia Bay area. The plane has an elongated fuselage extending rearwards from a high tail fin. It is powered by two propeller-type engines but also has two jet engines which give an added boost of power when needed. Large fuel pods are attached to the wing tips.

Detachment of the Neptune maritime patrol aircraft to Patricia Bay airport from June 15 to September, is announced by Rear Admiral W. M. Landmore, commander of the joint R.C.N./R.C.A.F. Maritime Pacific Command (MARPAF).

FOR RUNWAY REPAIRS

The Neptunes, which will be temporarily based here to alleviate the possibilities of air traffic problems at Comox where runway renovations are scheduled for the summer months.

MARPAF headquarters, located at H.M.C. Dockyard in Esquimalt, advises that the Neptunes will continue to make their routine "watch-dog" patrols over the Pacific Ocean, maintaining the surveillance of ships and submarines.

The evening's program will feature informal opportunity of meeting from 7:30 p.m. Presentations will be made at 9 p.m. The public is invited and will be welcomed. Special plans are being made to bring as many old timers as possible.

Offices will be opened by Lt.-Gov. G. R. Penrice, V.C., and the public will be invited to attend. Council on Tuesday evening awarded the catering contract for the affair to St. Mary's W.A., Saanichton.

Norwich Plan
Final showing of the Norwich Plan here will be made on Tuesday evening next week. Film was planned several weeks ago by Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, but failed to arrive in time.

Film shows the manner in which the English city was redecorated to achieve harmony. It is a plan which has spread across the world. Showing will be at the Sidney Hotel on Tuesday evening, June 16.

CHAIRMAN IS SPEAKER

In connection with the forthcoming school referendum vote, Mayne Island Ratepayers' Association held a meeting on May 30 to which J. McG. Campbell, chairman of the board of trustees, and J. Clarke, the Island member, had been invited to speak.

Between 50 and 60 association members turned out to hear Mr. Campbell who was introduced by F. J. Dudge, president of the association.

Mr. Campbell gave a short talk on the reasons and the aim of the plebiscite, and then the meeting was thrown open to questions.

From the speech of the school trustees' chairman, these facts were gleaned: School District 64 was a high-cost area, which was largely due to the fact that a large area, much of which was water, was included, and the area contained a number

Check Your House Number

Central Saanich residents are urged to check their house numbers and ensure that they are easily visible from the road.

Fire Chief Larry Rowles said ambulance drivers have complained several times in the past few weeks that they have had difficulty locating homes due to hard-to-find numbers. Some residences do not have numbers posted anywhere, he said, while many others are hidden. Ideally they should be fastened to a gate post or mail box post, especially if the house is set well back from the road.

The fire chief noted that some numbers, located in easy-to-find positions, are covered during the spring and summer by tree branches, plants or other objects.

Blast Shakes Ganges

Buildings shook and windows rattled on Friday night, at Ganges, when ammonium nitrate and fuel oil created the biggest single blast ever put off on Salt Spring Island when Holdfast Pozzolan Ltd., broke enough shale at their Long Harbour location to last them for a month.

The plant is presently working 16 men on a three-shift basis, producing pozzolan, a partial replacement for Portland cement which is manufactured from blue shale, and is being used by 15 ready-mix concrete plants in B.C. It is being supplied for the new 8th Ave. sewer in Vancouver and also as grouting for the Peace River Dam. The pozzolan is shipped by bulk tanker and in bags by flat-deck trailers.

Promenade Called For Along Waterfront At Brentwood

Promenade along a section of the waterfront at Brentwood Bay has been suggested by a Central Saanich councillor.

Councillor P. F. Benn, a member of the parks committee for Central Saanich, said a municipal-owned strip of property along the shoreline off Brentwood Drive should be made into a promenade with the odd bench for elderly people.

"I have had dozens of elderly people approach me and suggest this idea, so it is certainly needed," he said. "If in the early years of planning all the present waterfront homes had been put back at least 50 feet we would have had something."

The municipality owns a 20-foot wide piece of property running south from Brooks Park to Creed's Landing where a 10-foot wide strip connects back to Brentwood Drive. This was once part of a footpath which ran all around the Brentwood waterfront, said Councillor Benn. However, the old footpath along this stretch has been obliterated by gardens which have been cultivated to the edge of the bank. Originally 20 feet wide, the strip has been narrowed in places by erosion, said Central Saanich Assessor Ernest Lee.

It is felt that development of this piece of property by the municipality would bring a howl of understandable but unfounded protest from owners of adjacent property who would lose most of the gardens in front of their homes.

"I fully endorse the action of the Saanich parks' superintendent in carrying out his project of locating all public accesses to the water," said Councillor Benn. "A very progressive move on his part."

Night Schools

Director of night school courses in Saanich School District next year will be John S. Forge, of the staff of Mount Newton secondary school. Appointment was confirmed by trustees of Saanich School District on Monday evening.

Lions Club Formed

Already Some 20 Members

New service club made its entry into the Sidney calendar on Tuesday evening with a roar. Lions from Victoria assembled at Sidney Travellers Lodge as the Victoria Chinatown Lions met here to sponsor the new Sidney Lions Club.

Some 20 new Lions took part in the meeting.

"Third service club to come to Sidney, the Lions will take their place beside the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs here. In common with other service clubs, the Lions Club offers a combination of social activity and assistance to projects for the community or those in need."

John Callard is president of the new club and will be formally installed in his office on charter night, June 27 at Sanson Hall.

Sidney and Victoria lie in the same zone as the remainder of Vancouver Island and the Olympic Peninsula. The new club will represent the 14th within that zone.

In addition to the newcomers to Lions activities, the Sidney club includes a number of members who were affiliated in other communities.

Planning Discussion Thursday

—At Saanichton

Panel discussion of rural land use will be sponsored at Saanichton on Thursday evening by the Capital Region branch of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

Five-man panel will discuss land use in rural areas for farming, open spaces, housing, roads, industry, schools and commerce. Panel will consist of A. H. Roberts, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, who will act as moderator; R. Gordon Lee, reeve of Central Saanich; T. G. Michell, farmer and Central Saanich councillor; J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs, and Hugh Stephen, Victoria businessman.

Meeting will take place in the dining hall at the Saanichton Fair grounds this Thursday, June 11, at 8 p.m.

The Community Planning Association of Canada is an organization "bringing together interested citizens with elected officials and professional planners to further the cause of planning in Canada."

No Sound But Still Ringing

Starting June 15, telephone customers at Ganges and Gulf Islands will not hear a ringing signal when placing a call.

According to a B.C. Telephone Company spokesman, the equipment which provides the ringing sound was specially engineered for the Ganges and Gulf Islands' magneto system and is not compatible with the dial equipment now being installed and causes certain bells to ring other than the called party.

To overcome the inconvenience to telephone customers receiving false rings this feature is being temporarily removed on June 15. After the conversion to dial service on August 16, the situation will be corrected and customers will again be able to hear the ringing signal of a called party.

Central Saanich Representatives

Central Saanich will have four representatives at the inter-municipal meeting on June 20 called by Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell to discuss problems common to the Greater Victoria area. Attending from Central Saanich will be Reeve R. Gordon Lee, Councillors A. K. Homstreet and A. G. Vickers, and Fred Durrant, municipal clerk.

John Callard is president of the new club and will be formally installed in his office on charter night, June 27 at Sanson Hall.

Sidney and Victoria lie in the same zone as the remainder of Vancouver Island and the Olympic Peninsula. The new club will represent the 14th within that zone.

TO DISCUSS FUTURE OF FORMER HALL

Members of Sidney village council will meet with representatives of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce to attempt to work out a plan whereby the Chamber may rent the former village hall for use as a tourist information centre. The suggestion was made recently by Chairman A. A. Cormack.

D. W. Ruffie attended Monday's meeting of the council, representing the Chamber. He had expected that the Chamber had written to the council, but no letter was received.

A future meeting will be arranged.

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY FOR MR. AND MRS. FRANK ALLEN

Diamond wedding anniversary was celebrated last week by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Allen, of 2275 Beacon Ave., Sidney. The couple was married at Malden, Massachusetts, on June 4, 1904.

Mrs. Allen was born Clara Miller in New York on December 6, 1885, while her husband, Frank, is a native Canadian, born on May 30, 1878, in Moncton, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen came to Canada five years after their marriage, 55 years ago, and moved to British Columbia in 1912. They first lived at Cranbrook, where Mr. Allen was connected with the lumbering industry, and later moved farther west to Vancouver Island. They settled at Crofton and Mr. Allen operated an oyster farm for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Allen retired to Sidney in 1946.

The well-known Sidney couple have seven children, four girls and three boys, with all but two of these living in B.C. They are Mrs. Viola Barr, of Cranbrook; Mrs. Alice Robinson, Kimberley; Mrs. Eleanor Voss, of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Josephine McKinnon, Pasco, Wash.; Frank, in New Westminster; Ernest, at Kamloops, and Edward in Victoria. They also have 21 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

On their 59th anniversary a year ago, all members of the family gathered at the home of Ernest in Kamloops. Their 60th anniversary was celebrated more quietly at home.

Since arthritis cannot, as yet, be prevented, the basic approach to the treatment of arthritis is the prevention of disability where possible and to help restore to a happier and more useful life those who have become seriously disabled. This is the objective of the Canadian Arthritis Society working as a team with the family doctor.

LANGFORD LEGION BOWLERS CAPTURE TROPHY AT SIDNEY

Second Annual Vancouver Island Legion five-pin bowling tournament was held on Saturday, June 6, at Sidney Lanes.

Seven teams competed for the Legion Trophy provided by Sidney Lanes for annual competition by any or all Legion branches on Vancouver Island. Competition was keen, and had it not been for the handicap method of scoring, the ex-service women's team representing Branch No. 182, Victoria, would have walked off with the trophy.

However, members of Prince Edward branch, at Langford, carried off the trophy for the second year in succession.

Following the games, a banquet was held in the Mills Road Legion hall where the trophies were presented by Frank Edlington, president of the local branch, No. 37.

Evening closed with a dance.

Miss Joan Looy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Looy, Ben Gordon Road, a second year arts student at Victoria University, was one of 12 college students picked from various universities across Canada (six boys and six girls), to work at Queen St. Mental Hospital, Toronto, for the summer months. Miss Looy left for Toronto on the close of the university year here and will return to V.I. at the end of August in order to further her education at the university. While working at the hospital the young people are guests of the Queen St. United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Erickson, and family from Kirkland, Wash., have been visiting Mrs. Erickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Godfrey, Sr., and other relatives in the district. They spent several days with Mrs. Erickson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Doney, Doney Road. On Saturday, June 6, all the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Godfrey, Sr., Mount Newton Cross Road, to celebrate Mr. Godfrey's 80th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey's five sons and six daughters with their respective families were present. This represented a total of 37 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. C. Essery, Butler Road, travelled to Vancouver on Sunday as official delegate for the South Saanich Women's Institute and attended the Provincial Conference of B.C. Women's Institutes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. She returned home Thursday afternoon.

SAANICHTON COMMUNITY PICNIC JUNE 21

LANGFORD EASY BUT VIEW ROYAL STRONG

Saanichton Midget Girls played two games in the Colwood and District Softball League this past week.

On Tuesday evening they travelled to Langford where they played Langford A girls in an exciting game, winning with a score of 13-6.

On Sunday, June 7, the Saanichton girls played at View Royal, losing the game 15-2. The View Royal girls proved too strong a team for the local club and it was feared they would have a complete shut-out. But a home-run by June Farrell in the sixth inning put the Saanichton girls on the scoreboard, and Betty Stewart came in also, for the only scores for the local girls.

Batteries for both games were Cathy Godfrey and June Farrell to Betty Jeffrey. Following the game June Farrell entertained a number of her friends with supper and games at her home, 1880 Doney Road, to celebrate her 13th birthday.

Babe Ruth League

Brentwood met the top team of the Babe Ruth League last Tuesday evening and was defeated, 14-4. They were held to a close game till the third inning by Bob Johnstone when Shaw Plumbing's hard-hitting team came through to take the game easily. Battery for Brentwood was Bob Johnstone and Reg Underwood (4), to Richard Stansfield.

New Cosmopolitan Babe Ruth League's Park at the university grounds, Gordon Head, was officially opened on Sunday afternoon by League President Les. Lamb. Members of all seven teams were present and coaches and managers were introduced.

Air Cadet Band Practice

Bandmen of 676 Sidney Air Cadet Squadron are advised by their commanding officer, Flt.-Lt. J. R. Hannan, that summer practices will commence this Thursday evening at 7.30 p.m. Practices will be held in the Air Cadet headquarters at Patricia Bay Airport.

All members of the squadron band are asked to turn out, and other members of the unit interested in joining the band are also asked to attend.

Cadets from the Brentwood district requiring transportation should telephone 474-2227.

Holstein-Freisan Association Picnic Draws 200

There were 200 people present at the annual B.C. Holstein-Freisan Association picnic held at Stanhope Dairy Farm, owned by R. Rendle and son, Tanner Road, on Saturday, June 6.

The large crowd enjoyed a salmon barbecue, prepared by the Cooper family of Brentwood. After lunch the fine cattle in the Rendle and Taylor herds were inspected.

Many people prominent in Holstein-Freisan circles, were present, as well as agricultural and government officials. Arrangements were looked after by R. Rendle, W. Taylor and John Looy.

A Common Need

TWO current functions point up the declining concern of the individual for his community.
Last week a prominent Sidney Scout leader wrote expressing his concern at the indifference of parents and society in general to the efforts of the few towards organized juvenile activities.

This week brings the first annual meeting of the Deep Cove Waterworks District on Friday evening.

The common denominator is apathy. Parents of youngsters eagerly participating in Scout and Cub activities showed an eagerness only to avoid contact with it, protested a leader. The community which fought to establish a utility in the northern section of Saanich Peninsula will undoubtedly withdraw into the shell of apathy now that the utility is operating and distributing water through the community.

How far can this apathy be maintained?

The community project serving residents of the area with a necessary service can only survive while the community supports it. If the community withdraws its support, then the administration must be undertaken by salaried staff and the cost in dollars and cents will rise sharply. In this direction, there is always that answer. Where funds can be raised the utility can be operated. On Friday the ratepayers of the district will have the opportunity of showing whether or not they are prepared to support those who have given up their spare time to make water distribution a reality.

The unfortunate Scout leader is in a worse state. He can fall back on no one to do his job for him. A volunteer at the outset, he is supported by no funds and few helpers. If parents and responsible members of the community leave him to fend for himself, he either applies himself to the task or abandons the project.

Water and Scouting are far apart, yet their problems threaten to overlap. Both are community services. Both require the full backing of the community. Will they enjoy that backing?

A Pleasing Sight

DEPARTMENT of highways has a new mowing machine which went into service for the first time this spring. Both the machine and its operator are very efficient and verges of the Patricia Bay Highway have never presented a more pleasing appearance than they do at present.

This column has, at times, felt obliged to be just a little critical of Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, highways minister. So when he improves the efficiency of his department, he is fully entitled to a verbal pat on the back as well.

The mowing machine does not appear to be too expensive a luxury. Perhaps the minister will consider acquiring more of these machines so that verges on other thoroughfares in North Saanich may be kept neat and tidy as well. While residents of the main thoroughfare are enjoying rural beauty, their neighbors on side roads face only weeds and long grass beside the travelled surface. We all pay taxes, not just those of us residing on Patricia Bay Highway.

That Is As It Should Be

LAST week saw the graduation of 43 students from North Saanich secondary school.

A large crowd attended the final exercises of the students completing their studies here. The function was significant for the fact that it is the last to be presided over by retiring principal Mr. D. E. Breckenridge.

It was very significant in today's world for another reason entirely.

The president of the student council, taking a prominent part in the ceremony, John Thomas, is a member of the Saanich Indian band. Father of one of the graduating students and a polished speaker was Mr. Eddy Eng, a Chinese Canadian.

In a predominately Caucasian community these two gentlemen stood out. Not because they were different from the rest of the gathering, but because they were part of that gathering.

That is as it should be.

Brentwood Couple Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

—They Didn't Wait For Train

Couple married at Prince George when it was called Port George celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at Brentwood on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Harris, 6803 West Saanich Road, were married at Port George on June 9, 1914.

Mrs. Harris came from Durham, England, and was teaching at Port George when she met her husband-to-be. It was in January, 1914, when the young teacher took her class to see the first train come in on the new Grand Trunk Pacific Line. The train was late and Mr. Harris offered to take the children home. The couple was married five months later.

Mr. Harris, now 83, comes from Somerset, England, and has farmed most of his life. A Boer War veteran, he also served overseas with the Canadian Army in World War I. Before being posted overseas in 1916, Mr. Harris brought his wife and their two children down to Victoria. When he returned home after the war, they moved to Duncan where Mr. Harris farmed for seven years. They returned to the capital city in 1927 to live in Oak Bay, and in 1948 moved to Brentwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris have five children: Mrs. Betty Harper, at Lunenburg; Dr. Robert Ernest Harris, of Beaver Lodge, Alta.; Major Herbert John Harris, of Nanaimo; Mrs. Peggy Hayden, Vancouver; and Mrs. Nora Burdlyn, in Victoria; also 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Their golden anniversary was celebrated on Sunday at the home of their daughter and family in Victoria, with all of the children present except Robert.

Mrs. Harris, now 81 years of age, was the matron of the senior house at University School in Victoria before she went north to Port George. She arrived in the northern town 15 months before the railroad was completed there, after a long and adventurous journey by road and riverboat. Mr. Harris arrived at Port George in 1910.

AWFUL PLACE

"Port George was an awful place at that time," recalls Mrs. Harris. "There were just a few hundred people living there then in a jumble of shacks, she said.

When they moved out to Brentwood, Mr. Harris cleared his property by himself. Tending his garden is still his chief hobby.

UVIC REGISTRAR SPEAKS

Over Forty Graduate At North Saanich Ceremony

Registrar of the University of Victoria, R. R. Jeffels was both humorous and serious in an address that was well received by nearly 600 people and 43 graduates at the North Saanich school leaving ceremony held at the school on Friday evening.

F. A. McLellan, district superintendent of schools; Reginald Sinkinson, board chairman; Norman Wright of the P.T.A.; E. Eng, for the parents; and the Rev. F. R. Fleming spoke for the community to the class in reply to votes of thanks proposed by Ann Jeffrey, Mark Jacobsen and Linda Clark. Pam Thornley expressed thanks to the guest speaker.

A vote of thanks to the staff by John Thomas and a special vote of appreciation was replied to by Principal D. E. Breckenridge, who is relinquishing the principalship in favor of a teaching assignment.

CLASS PROPHECY

Carol Clayton prophesized the future of each of the group; Brian Tobin was valedictorian, while Nancy Miller bequeathed the grade 12 belongings to grade 11, accepted on its behalf by Bonnie Davidson.

Mr. Jeffels, introduced by L. G. Richards, of the school staff, reviewed the vast problems that the new generation is inheriting. He cited the struggle for the minds of men being fought between east and west, the hungry millions, atomic energy problems, automation, space travel, and above all the necessity of the individual to retain freedom of thought, speech and religion.

RECEPTION

A reception, sponsored by the grade 11 parents, followed for the students, their parents and the guests. Mrs. N. Wright and Mrs. D. E. Breckenridge poured.

BURGLAR ALARM IS SOUNDED

Fifteen members of Sidney Kinsmen Club, always anxious to raise money for their community fund, formed a work party over the weekend. They removed the old floor in the store of Local Meat Market and poured a new concrete slab.

On Saturday evening while work was under way, the disturbance set off the burglar alarm in the adjoining Martin Jewellers store. Members of the R.C.M.P. responded immediately and the alarm sounded for some time before it could be turned off.

Boys' Club

Sidney's Boys' Club is bursting at the seams. The newly-found recreation group has launched into a program of activity ranging from hard work to entertainment. Club members have undertaken a series of projects.

Included are the building of the bleachers for the ball park at Sidney and the boys have been offered the concession for the official Car Park for Sidney Day on July 1.

Requests have been made for the extension of the club's sports activities to include weight lifting, bowling and soccer. Herb Schroeder, Don Locke and Ken Stacey respectively will be responsible for organizing the various sections.

It is proposed that meetings be held every Wednesday in future. A ball game is being arranged with Brentwood with a softball game in return.

AWARDS DAY FRIDAY AT NORTH SAANICH

Awards Day and display of work will take place at North Saanich secondary school this Friday, June 12. Students will receive awards at a ceremony commencing at 1:45 p.m.

Awards are presented by the North Saanich P.T.A., Sidney Business and Professional Women's Club, Parent Band Association, Sidney Rotary, Anns, Student Council, School District, Club H.M.S. Endeavour Chapter, I.O.O.F., the Government of France, School Athletic Council and the school.

There will be a display of work featuring the industrial arts projects, student art work and other displays. Home economics activities will take the form of a fashion show on the stage at 8 p.m. The event will be open to the public.

Telephone Company's Plan

There is every probability that a much greater area will be brought into the B.C. Telephone Co. will be paying considerably less for their services in the comparatively near future.

G. B. Murphy, Victoria executive of the phone company, told The Review this week that the survey of population growth in this district has been completed and that a much greater area will be brought into the free mileage area.

At the present time many subscribers in the Village of Sidney enjoy this free mileage privilege. Others pay either 40 or 60 cents per month for every quarter of a mile which their residences lie from this built-up area, if they wish two party or individual service respectively.

The company has made application to the board of transport commissioners for permission to expand this free mileage area considerably. It is confidently expected that approval will be granted and that the new rate structure may be effective around October 1.

Free mileage area will start at the south from Bazan Bay Road and continue northward along Canora Road to include the airport and then northerly through the veterans' subdivision to a point near Rest Haven Hospital. The extension is thus generally south and west of the present free mileage area. Two party service and individual lines will be available at no added mileage cost in this area.

In addition, subscribers close to these boundaries but outside the free mileage area will benefit because the distances to their homes will be reduced. Mileage charges will not be eliminated but they will drop.

The survey showed that population growth in the Ardmore and Deep Cove areas has not yet reached the point that metropolitan type telephone service can be provided economically. No changes are planned in services to Central Saanich subscribers as a result of the survey but a close check will be kept on numbers of new homes under construction.

Two-year contract for janitorial services to the new village hall has been let to Otto Wiggins for $425 per month. The contractor supplies all materials and equipment used.

This is a big year for new building permits in the Village of Sidney. At Monday's meeting of the council, Clerk A. W. Sharp reported that permits to the value of $417,523 had been issued from the first of the year until the end of May.

The permits issued were as follows:

14 new houses	$184,000
3 apartments	167,000

Anxious To Save Historic Row Of Elms

A Sidney lady is anxious that a row of historic elm trees planted many years ago along Beacon Avenue be preserved.

Mrs. Rita Morris wrote to Sidney village council on Monday, noting that some discussion had taken place on removal of the trees because their roots were interfering with the sewerage system, and urging that their lives be spared.

Village works foreman, S. P. Coward, reported that roots of these trees were clogging sewer laterals in some parts of Beacon Avenue and that whenever this occurred the clearance costs were heavy.

Commissioner J. E. Boshor contended that these trees should be removed only where they were causing damage. Mr. Coward pointed out that there are about 30 trees in all, with only five causing trouble. Mr. Boshor felt that the troublesome elms should be removed and replaced with smaller types of trees.

6 exciting new ways to add beauty and convenience to your home

Glamorous phones are no longer just for movie stars or millionaires. B.C. TEL can now provide you with the full luxury of modern "telephone living" at a cost you'll hardly notice.

The lady in our picture is using a table model—the basic extension phone which can save you thousands of steps a year, suitable for any room in the house. And consider, also, how much the six other low-cost installations shown here can add to your daily convenience and the beauty of your home.

All the phone models illustrated are available in a range of lovely decorator colors. And the monthly charges are much more modest than many people imagine. In most cases they work out at only a few pennies per day.

Other economical B.C. TEL services to increase the enjoyment of home living include additional lines and additional directory listings—both becoming more and more popular with big, busy families. Add new beauty and convenience to your home this week for only pennies per day. Call your B.C. TEL Business Office right away!

INSTALLMENT XXIX.

LA FERIA DE SEVILLA

We hired a calandria (that's what they are called in Mexico but the term is unknown here), a horse-drawn carriage, open top, seating four with the driver on a high seat forward.

There was plenty of stir and excitement in the streets. While the driver wound in and out of the heavy street traffic we lounged comfortably in our seats and drank in the colorful tableau which is Spain at a feria.

Every turn of a corner brought new sights and "ohs" and "ahs" from us all and the camera shutters clicked incessantly—for here was Andalusia in her most romantic mood: fiesta!

We had expected a big parade, but the parade was omnipresent: on the sidewalks, in the streets, in the costumes, in the saddles. For everywhere were the magnificent Hispano-Arab horses, groomed to the limit of perfection, and in the saddles were handsome young chaps in spotless white silk shirts, high-waisted breeches, short jackets and the flat-rim Cordoban hat. But not all of the riders were of the young set. Older fellows sat their mounts gracefully and proudly and added dignity to the dash of their sons.

Some rode alone but many carried behind them, riding pillion, beautiful señoritas and younger señoras dressed in their feria finest: flounced dresses after the classical gypsy style, hair drawn smoothly back into a knot and embellished with a flower and often with shoulders covered with an embroidered shawl.

The variety of color in the dresses, plain or contrasting polka dots, was striking, billowing out with the flounces and caught up here and there at the hem to show a multitude of pretty petticoats. Often the girls' arm would be clasped tightly around the waist of the dandee in the saddle, the other resting arrogantly on her hip. And not all the riders were males with their sweethearts behind them. Here and there would be a proud papa with one or two beautifully turned out children also mounted—if two, one fore and one aft; and many of the riders were señoritas in smart riding habits.

FILLING UP

Siesta over, the sidewalk tables began to fill up with Sevillanos, the sidewalks were full and overflowing into the streets and gaiety, begot by the milling crowds, was rampant. We left the calandria and joined the crowds and ourselves became a part of the great paseo.

Gradually we worked our way toward the area where the feria centered. We became aware of an occasional strumming of a guitar or the clicking of castanets. The pace was leisurely with lots of time to see and hear and flavor it all.

As dusk set in the horses and riders became more numerous; more and more costumed men, women and children appeared in the crowds.

Occasionally, as night approached the high-back comb and beautiful black mantillas adorned the heads of the beauties. But, before we leave this gorgeous paseo and return to Per's hotel room for a little nap and a freshen-up preparatory to a night-on-the-town, let us add a comment on the beauty of these Andalusian horses.

The basis of the famous Lippizaner stud of the Vienna Spanish Riding School is this Hispano-Arab line. They were introduced into Austria by the Emperor Maximilian in 1562 and are said to have come originally from Jerez, a town in western Andalusia. Incidentally this Spanish Riding School has been making news currently in their American tour. We were fortunate in seeing them in their own ring in Vienna two years ago. We have since seen them on TV viewing at home and have no doubt they will wind up on Ed Sullivan's show on this present tour—probably before this appears in print. Don't miss them! Their performance can stand repetition over and over again.

LONG REST

The little nap in the hotel room stretched into a good rest. We needed it, too, as we had been up since six o'clock in the morning and had a long night ahead of us. By the time we had all changed for the evening it was nearly 10 p.m.—a very popular starting time for dinner and an evening out in Spain.

Mama G. wore her Hong Kong cheongsam with a stole, Lila her Pakistan sari with the forehead cast mark. Per his Stockholm business suit with a London woolen jacket, the Beard a fresh haircut; and, not to be outdone, the Old Gulf Islander appeared in an "Eddie Bambrick" creation with a Singapore white jacket. We seemed to create as much attention of Sevillanos, turning their heads and craning their necks to look us up and down, as their festive costumes did for us.

SEAFOOD DINNER

First of all we went to a popular little restaurant and had a seafood dinner—after all, aren't we of the sea? Then to a night club to see competitive flamenco and other native dancing with artists from all over Andalusia and even as far away as Valencia, Barcelona, and beyond. We want to speak briefly here of the flamenco although it would take volumes of authoritative writing to do it justice and volumes have been written trying to explain it.

There are two types of flamenco dancing: the classical-traditional and the popular-commercial. But there is much more to flamenco than the dancing. Aficionados (enthusiasts) will even tell you that it is a philosophy, a way of life influencing the daily activities of Andalusians. To us it seems to have three component parts: the guitarist, dancer, singer. Any of these can stand alone but combinations of the three are usually seen in performances. It is doubtful we have ever seen the classical-traditional flamenco. It "just happens", sometimes in small jam sessions, sometimes in juergas (hired performances), sometimes in professional stage appearances; but the keynote is mood, and a big factor in mood is audience reaction and appreciation.

Water Petition "Dead"

—Only 15 Sign

With but 15 out of a possible 140 frontagers signing the petition to date, Municipal Engineer Neville Life said last Tuesday that the proposal to extend the watermain to Prospect Lake is "obviously dead." Petition must have the signatures of 94 property owners, indicated Assistant Municipal Clerk Alan Ford at the meeting of Saanich health and welfare committee.

From views expressed by residents who were present it would seem that some have refrained from signing the petition because they doubt council's intentions to legislate to protect the lake district from further contamination once the watermain is installed.

On the other hand, committee members made it plain that council had purposely waited for the result of the petition before enforcing the protective regulations recommended by Chief Inspector D. W. R. Smith in his exhaustive report on the sanitary conditions at Prospect Lake last year.

Faced with passive rejection of the municipal water scheme prepared by the municipal engineer, the committee recommended that council now adopt Mr. Smith's report, and the measures he proposes should be taken to preserve the fitness of Prospect Lake for recreational purposes. The lake water cannot be brought to a standard necessary for domestic supply, said Mr. Smith.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jakeman, 9970 Sixth St., Sidney, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Faye Margaret Larson, to John Stewart Skinner, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Skinner, 9716 Eastview Drive, Sidney.

The wedding will take place on Friday, June 12, at 7 p.m. in St. Andrew's Anglican Church with Rev. F. C. Vaughan-Birch officiating.

Present position is that building is at a standstill because the medical officer of health will not permit further use of suspected water sources, and building permits may not be issued by the municipality.

Implementation of the chief inspector's proposals, described as "extremely stringent", will affect a number of property owners who have plans to build, said Councillor Leslie Passmore. Twin problems of domestic water supply and satisfactory sewage disposal has completely eliminated the possibility of building.

Mr. Smith explained that comparatively few persons now resident will be unduly affected by proposed controls, but said that in those cases where there is contribution to the pollution of the lake remedies will have to be found.

COSTLY

Appended to his report are drawings of approved sand filter installations that may be constructed in certain circumstances to provide purification of effluent. They are costly—in the region of $1,000, he indicated.

Speakers at the meeting declared that Prospect Lake and District Community Association has taken no particular attitude on the question of extending the municipal watermain to the lake.

Gymanfa Ganu Features Beautiful Singing At Carey Road Church

By BEA HAMILTON

The Welsh Cymrodorion Society of Victoria, held their Gymanfa Ganu, or festival of song, at the Garden City United church, Carey Road, Victoria, on Sunday afternoon and evening, May 24.

Present were such outstanding artists as Peter Yelland, of Duncan, who sang items from Handel's Messiah. Mr. Yelland sang both in the afternoon and at the evening sessions.

Visiting conductor was the charming Mrs. Ann Davies-Thomas of Riverside, Calif.

Other artists included Mrs. Evan Walters, of Vancouver, who was accompanied by her husband on the organ, and George Roberts, of Prospect Lake. A surprise was John Williams, president of the Cambrian Welsh Society of Vancouver, who sang a solo.

THRILL AND BE THRILLED

Peter Yelland, who sings with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, thrilled the 250 or so people, with his wonderful voice.

He, in turn, was thrilled and enthusiastic when he listened to the Welsh harmony as he sat with the choir.

"All this is new to me—I have never heard the Welsh in harmony like this," he said.

He marvelled at the way the conductor, Mrs. Davies-Thomas, took the large choirs through every hymn with no more than a glance to check numbers in the book.

The visitor from the United States seemed to know every word of every hymn sung. Her conducting was superb.

About 50 came from Vancouver and Seattle Welsh choirs, arriving by special bus and departing after the last hymn was sung in the evening.

Pot-Luck Supper For Knights

Members of the Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters and friends gathered in the K. of P. Hall, Fourth St. on Tuesday evening, June 2, where they enjoyed a pot-luck supper.

Community singing followed the meal and the showing of two films: "The Rogers Pass" and a new film on Vancouver Island.

Singing bus driver Ken Cummings and Mrs. A. Quinn all set for singing.

LIBRARY JUSTIFIES EFFORTS

By H.R.O.

Can an active P.T.A. be considered an essential adjunct to the school which it serves?

Not all parents and teachers agree on this point. However, there is at least one school in Saanich School District, No. 63, which has gained a lasting memorial to the energy of its auxiliary organization. Deep Cove elementary school is justifiably proud of a P.T.A. library of fiction and reference books set up for the use of Grade IV to VII students.

In two years more than 150 volumes have been purchased by means of grants from the P.T.A. and assistance by the Deep Cove Recreation Commission.

In a district where library facilities do not exist it is felt that this endowment will have considerable influence upon the reading habits of the hundreds of students who will pass through this school in future years.

ORGANIZATION

The library is organized according to an approved system with two elected student librarians on duty each Friday during lunch hour.

Two P.T.A. members of the library committee, together with the school principal, are responsible for the selection and purchase of new books as well as the training and

PROTEST LODGED

FIVE ARE NAMED TO MAYNE ISLAND FIRE DISTRICT

Mayne Island Fire Protection District took another step forward on May 30, when an election was held to appoint five trustees for the district. The chair was taken by G. Slinn, who had been appointed returning officer by the provincial government.

Seven nominations had previously been given for these offices, and at the beginning of the meeting two of the candidates, A. E. Steward and Mr. Cotton, withdrew their names. Protest was lodged from the floor, questioning the legality of the election. This hinged on the eligibility of non-resident voters to vote, and the eligibility of any candidate who usually lived in a residence not on Mayne Island.

After some discussion, the returning officer decided to proceed with the election, the protestee having the right to file an affidavit in Victoria to determine whether the points he had raised would stand, and if they did, to hold the election again on the ruling given by the government.

Since there were only the necessary five candidates, the returning officer declared them elected, and designated the periods they will serve.

Trustees are B. W. Wilks, three years; G. McNicol, two years; G. Balsilli, two years; J. Clarke, one year; A. Filtness, one year.

LOSES INTEREST

Although the provincial open shelf library provides lending facilities to all children living in a provincial unorganized district it is apparent that the marginal reader quickly loses interest when he has little opportunity of personal selection from the stacks.

Three of the aims of the P.T.A. are:

To promote the welfare of youth within its community and to raise the standards of home life.

To foster co-operation between parents and teachers, during and after the school period.

And to obtain the best for each child according to his physical, mental and spiritual needs.

Bearing in mind the fulfilment of these important objectives, it is fair to say that the formation of a growing school library as a cultural and recreational contribution to its school fully justifies the existence of any Parent Teacher Association.

SIDNEY SCHOOL FESTIVAL SUCCESSFUL

On Friday, May 29, an evening of fun and entertainment was enjoyed by many who gathered at the Sidney elementary school for the annual festival.

Being an unusually balmy evening, parents were able to enjoy in comfort the outside entertainment program put on by the students.

Festival was officially opened by Mrs. G. Madill and doors were opened to a selection of stalls and games. Proceeds are used during the year to partially cover a dental program for the beginners, seasonal treats, student awards, a delegate to the P.T.A. convention and other items. This event was again successful in reaching its goal.

BOOK REVIEW

Warmth And Wit Evident In New Anthology Of High School Verse

This is an adventure in poetry. The adventure began when a group of Saanich students decided to launch a vessel of verse. From the purely creative pursuit of writing, they entered the more concrete world of publishing and experienced many a rock.

The adventure was only the more intriguing for the barriers and problems. The spirit which endured every obstruction to come out with this pleasing little masterpiece is the same spirit which is to be found within the anthology.

The "Group of Fourteen" had originally looked to a more conventional production. The costs involved in setting type and printing the books were beyond the range of the young authors. Instead, they have produced the large format, coil-bound volume with a lino cut on the front cover.

The volume is dedicated to all who gave help and encouragement to the 14, represented by Bruce Bennett, Jim Clayton, Ian Halkett and Herbert Neuls.

None of the contributors has been held to a confining or traditional style. Neither has humor been ignored. The range is quite comprehensive and the standard is excellent. It is so very expressive of the mood and joy of creation within the writers. The reader is left with the certain knowledge that nothing he might write could rival the competence of the young poets in terms of accomplishment or in terms of fervor and contentment in their effort.

Any reader who is addicted to verse might well acquire a copy of this publication. He may derive less pleasure from it than did I, but he cannot fail to be attracted by the quality of the product and the variety of its scope. The maturity of the offering belies the age of the writers.

There is no posturing or dilettantism about this. It is the joyous accomplishment of a group which has something to say and cannot find adequate expression in the monotony of prose. It is, incidentally, a credit to the English teaching experienced by these youthful writers, that has brought to the surface a delight in an ancient literary art.—F.G.R.

COMEDY AND DRAMA AT GEM THIS WEEK

Rollicking comedy-drama, "Donovan's Reef" will be shown at the Gem Theatre in Sidney this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

John Wayne stars as "Donovan" and "Donovan's Reef" is the name of a saloon that he owns. He is an adventure-loving World War II hero who stayed in the island after the war, and has since become a fairly prosperous businessman with a fleet of sailing ships and the saloon. Also starred in the film are Lee Marvin and Dorothy Lamour, with Jack Warden, Elizabeth Allen and Cesar Romero. Movie was filmed on location in the South Seas.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Gem will present Burt Lancaster and Judy Garland in "A education purposes. The total estimate of the cost is $463,912, all of which was eligible for provincial grant, and proposed to be raised by six per cent debentures over a period of 20 years.

It was stated that the new building could be ready for occupation about 18 months after the commencement of building, and would be entirely adequate for the first three years.

$12,000 PER MILL

Questions raised elicited a variety of information. The area can raise about $12,000 on a one-mill rate.

From this it is estimated that the sum asked for in the present referendum would cost the taxpayer a further 2 mills on present assessment, with the possibility of a reduction in future years.

At present the school rate is 21.33 mills. The government meets, from consolidated revenue, 50 per cent of school costs on a province-wide basis, but in this area, owing to the formula followed in obtaining the grant, the government share of education costs is only nine per cent, the balance of the cost coming from local taxation. Thus in 1964, the government contributes $27,000 to education costs.

BRIDGE AND CONSOLIDATION

One questioner raised the point of bridging Saturna and Mayne, with a consolidated school on an island other than Salt Spring, but Mr. Campbell thought this would be more expensive than the present proposal. Others raised the point as to whether the outer islands did not subsidize Ganges, but Mr. Campbell did not think actual figures bore this out, although it was possible that the district did subsidize the province as a whole.

Members expressed their appreciation of the opportunity of gaining further information on the referendum to be presented later this month.

Child Is Waiting". The film deals with mental retardation, a theme never before approached on the screen.

"A Child Is Waiting" is a fictional drama which revolves around one particular boy, portrayed by young actor Bruce Ritchey. In powerful and tender terms it reveals the deeply emotional effects his life has on the superintendent of the training school which he attends; a music teacher at the school, Miss Garland's role, and his parents.

Flying Club Presents Awards At Annual Wings Banquet

Annual Wings Banquet of the Victoria Flying Club was held at Air Cadet headquarters, Patricia Bay Airport, last Saturday evening. Guest speaker at the affair was Hon. Ray Williston, minister of lands and forests.

The club graduated 19 private and three commercial pilots this year. Receiving their commercial certificates were Ken Barlow, Lorne Merrett and James McLellan, all of Victoria.

New private pilots are Fred Mohler, of Saanichton, Gary McLeod, Sidney, Duart MacLean, Elk Lak, Jim Thibodeau, of Duncan, and from Victoria, Miss Judi Preston, Mrs. Marie Liddell, Doug Perkins, Dave Birch, Henry Leblanc, Lloyd Rauw, Roy Miller and Ervyn Duke. Other private pilots graduated by the club in the past year who were not present were Brian Cates, of Prince George; John Shaw, Vancouver; Ken Porter, in Regina; Ron Smith and Derreck Chambers, both of Victoria; John Nelson, now in Nova Scotia, and Dr. Jack Hay, now in North Africa.

Certificates were presented by the president of the flying club, Vic Dawson, of Brentwood Bay. Club Manager Mike Sealey was master of ceremonies.

Five special trophies were also presented at the banquet.

Page the Cleaner trophy for the top private pilot was won this year by Doug Perkins. Lorne Merrett was presented with the Imperial Oil trophy as top pilot. The Vic Dawson Club Booster Award went this year to Bill Patterson. Lief Moe, of Brentwood, won the Wm. Langwith trophy for the top sky diver.

In an amusing speech to the nearly 200 club members and guests present, Mr. Williston reminisced about his own wartime flying training experiences. He also spoke of the provincial government's need and use of aircraft both today and in the future.

One of the most important roles of aircraft to the government is in fire patrols and water bombing, the audience was told. This involves both light and heavy aircraft. Two other fields cited by the minister in which aircraft are proving their value are high altitude aerial photography and airlifting survey and ground crews to remote areas.

Poll For Planning Area

A well-attended public meeting in Mahon Hall, Ganges, on Friday night, called by the Chamber of Commerce, discussed at length with Don South, of the municipal affairs department, the benefits to be derived from the formation of a community planning area for Salt Spring Island. The plan would regulate building code, or zoning, or subdivisions, or all three.

It was decided that the chamber, with the assistance of the department, would poll island property owners on their reaction to the possible formation of a planning area.

The meeting also voted in favor of observing Canada's 1967 centenary and elected a committee to promote a project. Members are: M. F. Peiler, Zenon Kropinski, W. F. Thorburn, Barney Lukas, Jack Roland, M. H. Holmes, I. W. Bradley and Adrian Wolfe-Milner.

A communion table, the gift of Lieut. and Mrs. George Pumble and family was dedicated by the Rev. C. H. Whitmore. It was unveiled by Lieut. Pumble and William Brown asked the minister to dedicate it.

Lt. and Mrs. Pumble will leave with their family for the east coast at the end of June. The communion table will be an enduring gift for many years to come, said Rev. Whitmore. All the good wishes of the people of St. John's go with this family in their new surroundings, he said.

Communion Table Gift For St. John's

An unusual event took place at St. John's United Church, Deep Cove, at the morning service on Sunday, June 7.
